Laboratory Procedures

Steryl glucosides is supplied as a solid. A stock solution may be made by dissolving the sterol glucosides in the solvent of choice. Steryl glucosides is soluble in a 2:1:0.1 (warm) solution of chloroform:methanol:water.

Description

Steryl glucosides are neutral glycolipids commonly found in plant cell membranes and vegetable oils that contain a glucose moiety conjugated to a sterol lipid.¹ They function as glucose donors in the biosynthesis of glucocerebrosides (Item No. 25850) in plant microsomes and are metabolic precursors to acylated/esterified sterol glucosides.^{1,2} Steryl glucosides are the major component of filter- and engine-damaging precipitates formed during biodiesel production from transesterification of vegetable oils.³ This product contains a mixture of sterol glucosides.
